Being a manager is rewarding and challenging - you have the opportunity to inspire and motivate your team and to provide the focus and drive to enable your people to deliver results.

But it's not easy. Managing people, situations, and results is a challenge!

This 5-day blended learning programme is perfect for any manager looking for support and guidance. We combine classroom learning with independent learning – blended with a variety of great resources and learning activities that bring the learning to life and link it to real-life situations.

This is a custom-built programme designed to deliver a real impact – approved by The Institute of Leadership to give you the confidence that the content meets their high-quality standards.

What's in it for me:

- Learn great management tools and techniques to help make your job easier and more rewarding.
- Support along the way – mentoring from an experienced manager to help you implement what you learn.
- Five days of classroom training focusing on key management and leadership skills.
- Recognition of your development – gain a certificate confirming completion of this Institute of Leadership Approved programme.
- Membership to The Institute of Leadership and access to their fantastic range of additional resources and community.
- Be part of an accredited leadership development programme that is contemporary, engaging and focuses on improving practice.

The programme includes five days of face-to-face tuition as well as materials and assessments to be completed between sessions – all easily available and trackable on the MPES learning portal.

Whether you are a brand-new line manager, or you've been managing or leading a team for some time, this programme will build your confidence and equip you with the skills and knowledge to lead and manage well.
